THREE MEN CREMATED

By the Burning of the Ackerman Hotel at Logansport, Ind.

Two of Them Were Successful Candidates for County Treasurer and Auditor.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 3.—A special to the Daily News from Logansport, Martin County, Ind., says that at 3 o'clock this morning the Ackerman Hotel, a two-story frame building, was burned, and three men perished in the flames. They were forgotten in the excitement until it was too late to save them. Two of them were John G. Gates and Michael Tracey, who were yesterday elected Treasurer and Auditor, respectively, of Martin County. Worn out by the exertions of the day, they retired at a late hour and were not awakened until too late to escape. Gates died a death of torture, as indicated by the position in which his body was found. The third victim was John Burch, whose presence in the building was unexplained. He leaves a wife and children. Gates had eleven children, mostly grown.

SEA COW CAPTURED.

It Resembles a Huge Loaf of Bread.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Messrs. Chas. Reiche and Bro., of this city, have received from their South American correspondents a young manatee or sea cow, which was captured recently in the Amazon river. It is a female, about eight months old, and weighs about one hundred pounds. This is the second manatee ever exhibited in this country, the first having been brought from Brazil about five years ago when it was exhibited in the New York Aquarium, then on the site of the present Park Theater, at Thirty-sixth street and Broadway. It is about six feet in length and one and a half in breadth, and resembles a huge loaf of bread, with the thick end for a head, or, more properly speaking, the mouth, for head it has none. Its eyes, which are small and black, like shoe buttons, being set deep in between its shoulders. Its skin is tough and elastic like india rubber, black, except for the belly, which is as white as a man's hand. It propels itself by means of two flippers and a large, broad tail, hard and solid as a board. Its natural food is seaweed, but in its captivity it has been fed entirely on bread and crackers, which it eats with a relish, sometimes gorging itself until stupid. It draws its food into its mouth by means of its long fingers, and in the case of those at the end of an elephant's trunk. Messrs. Reiche do not know what its future will be, but think it may be sent to some European zoological collection.

Explosion of a Powder-House.

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 3.—A terrific explosion followed by a crashing of glass and flying timbers started McDonald Station citizens at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon. Two men were killed, and three names could not be learned, were seriously injured by flying missiles. The building is a complete wreck, and will have to be torn down. It is a two-story building, and the roof has fallen in. Loss estimated at over $15,000 on stock and building. After the explosion the building took fire, but the flames were quickly extinguished. The destruction of the store will be seriously felt by six or eight hundred coal miners who deal there.

Bonds to that amount must be filed with Secretary Whitney by the contractors before work is begun.

EARTH TREMORS.

Particularly Severe in the Southern States.

The Residents of Columbia, S. C., Leave Their Homes.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Nov. 5.—During the earthquake shock which occurred here to-day at twenty-six minutes past twelve o'clock, all of the public schools were in session. At the most of the white schools the scholars stood the shock pretty well, but at several of the colored schools quite a panic took place. At the Bethel Church Colored School, during the rush which was made for the door, three children were thrown down and trampled upon, and a little girl, who jumped out of the window, was seriously injured. In another of the colored schools several more of the scholars were injured by falling plastering. None of the injured, however, are fatally hurt. The disturbance to-day was very severe at Summerville, and was sharply felt throughout the State. Late telegraphic advices state that it was also felt as far south as Savannah, and as far north as Lynchburg. At Savannah there was considerable excitement, and one or two of the public schools narrowly escaped a panic. In this city no serious damage is reported beyond the cracking of a few brick walls and the tumbling down of a few chimneys. To-day's shock is variously estimated at from thirty-five to forty-five seconds duration. The direction of the wave was from south to north, and the motion was of a compound character, up and down and from side to side. Although there has been no interruption of business in consequence of to-day's disturbance, there is manifest a very general feeling of nervousness, much more so than was the case during the shocks of two weeks ago. No further shocks to 9:30 p. m. The fears felt this afternoon of a rise in the sea level on account of to-day's shock coming apparently from the ocean, have been so far without any realization.

Her injuries are thought to be fatal. Roberts has not been captured.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—There can not be made an accurate tabulation showing the political divisions of the House of Representatives. This gives the Democrats a clear majority of twelve over the Republicans and a majority of six over all opposition. In the Rhode Island district the Republicans will probably get through at the next election, so that the Republicans will have 151 members. It must be borne in mind, however, that two of the four Labor candidates elected are Democrats, and will go into a Democratic caucus on the organization of the House of Representatives.

DONAVAN'S JUMP.

A Terrible Leap From the Suspension Bridge into Niagara, Two Hundred Feet Below.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Nov. 7.—Lawrence Donovan, of New York, who recently jumped from the Brooklyn Bridge into East River, jumped from the new suspension bridge (a little past the center) at five minutes before seven this morning. His jump was witnessed by four or five persons. He was accompanied by Prof. Haley and Mr. Drew, a reporter of Buffalo. He made the jump successfully, a distance of one hundred and ninety feet. He went straight down, feet foremost. He came up somewhat dazed, but struck out for the boat, in which were Messrs. Drew and Haley, was taken in and stimulants given him. He is not seriously injured. One rib is probably broken and hip is bruised. He said before he got out of the water that he would not jump again for $1,000,000. Afterward he said he would jump next summer for $1,000. He is at the Broeze House with a broken rib. In an interview he says: "They say the bridge is 150 feet high, and after they took me out of the water I found out that the water is lower now than it ever was, and the distance from the bridge must be 215 feet. It was a terrible jump, and I wouldn't make it again for the whole United States. It was on the Canada end of the bridge, but pretty near the middle of the river. I had on my jumping suit, the same I jumped from the Brooklyn Bridge in. I had my coat unbuttoned, so that if it bothered me in the water I could get out of it easy. I'm sorry for that now, for if the coat had not been on in the air as I was going down, I would have struck the water square and would not have broken my rib. How did I feel? Well, it's hard to tell. I closed my eyes when I jumped, but I opened them right away again, but I didn't seem to see anything. My elbows were close to my sides and I kept my feet together. When I struck the water it seemed as though I would burst to pieces. The shock was terrible and I kept right on going down till it seemed as if I'd never stop. When I came to the surface I struck out with my arms and legs, but I was dazed, and I don't know which way I swam. The current kept carrying me down, but the boat got to me pretty soon. As soon as they pulled me in, I spit up a lot of blood, and then I fainted dead away. I was taken to the hospital, but I don't know what the doctors say. I was examined by Dr. Palmer, who examined Donovan on his arrival in the city, found him suffering from considerable excitement, several ribs broken, and a dislocation of the elbow, made when he struck the water. The fourth rib on the left side was found to be separated from the breast bone, and was at once bandaged. Both physicians express the opinion that the jumper will be around in a couple of days. He says he is now ready to jump off the Genesee Falls at Rochester, where Sam Patch lost his life, and if he entirely recovers from this shock will swim to the Whirlpool Rapids."

A SINGULAR ACCIDENT.

Five Men Killed or Wounded by Falling Timbers at Columbus, Ind.

COLUMBUS, Ind., Nov. 7.—A terrible accident occurred here yesterday just as four trains on the Jeffersonville, Madison & Indianapolis road were due, and the platform, but a few feet from the scene of the accident, was crowded with waiting passengers, who saw it with a chill of horror. Five men were putting into place the heavy timbers of the framework to support a large water-tower. One of the guy ropes of the derrick they were using was stretched across the track, and low enough to be caught by the smokestack of the northbound train, snapping the rope and letting the derrick and the timbers fall on the heads of the five men, killing three. One of the men, a Mr. Robinson, was killed instantly, and the other two, a Mr. Weaver, of this city, crushing the skull of Milt Robinson, of Seymour, and the other, a Mr. Charles W. Wm. ## THE COMMONWEALTH.

Louisville Leaf Tobacco Market.

The market has sustained, with short variations, the tone and tendencies of last week, except that low and medium grades of dark tobacco have been lately tending up, closing about 25c. per 100 pounds higher than a week ago. The higher grades of dark have been scarcer and firm. Burley tobacco has been quiet, but about steady for low grades, sound mediums have been firm, and the higher grades retain the stiff tone previously noticed, of sing at full prices. The large manufacturers and dealers have been in steady attendance, and there has been a well-sustained competition for all offerings of useful tobacco. We quote 1886 tobaccos as follows for full-weight packages:
